Judicial activism ensures justice to deprived sections

Supreme Court Judge Justice A.S. Bopanna says without judicial review, democratic system would be a mere farce

Mysuru, June 30 (RK&BCT)- "The role of judicial activism cannot be negated or overlooked as it plays a significant role in providing justice to the underprivileged sections of the society like indigent individuals, socially and educationally backward classes, undertrial prisoners and manual labourers, opined Supreme Court Judge Justice A.S. Bopanna.

He was in the city this morning to inaugurate a day-long Convention JIGNYASA-2022 on the topic 'Judicial Activism with Special Reference to Industrial Laws' at JSS Pharmacy College Auditorium in Bannimantap.

The event was organised by Industrial Management Association, Mysuru. Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji, former Lokayukta of Karnataka Justice N. Santhosh Hegde and President & Chief Operating Officer (COO), Meritor, Dr. N. Muthukumar were the guests of honour.

Interpretation of Article 21

Dwelling in detail about judicial activism, Justice Bopanna said that a Court indulging in judicial activism is far more efficient than a conservative court since it is only on such liberal interpretation of the laws a Court would be in a position to safeguard the citizens from legislative and executive tyranny.

"To make socio-economic rights judicially enforceable, the Judges are duty-bound to expand the interpretation of Article 21 which guarantees right to life and right to equality," he noted.

Although the provisions of civil and political rights guaranteed in the Constitution are accepted to be in the domain of the legislature and the executive, the High Courts and the Supreme Court are expected to assert the role of the judiciary in holding the Government accountable for implementing these rights, Justice Bopanna said.

Failure of the executive

"In the process, the Court highlights the failure of the executive to implement the projects for the well-being of the poor and ensure the implementation of provisions of food, healthcare or living wages. The State will therefore be held judicially accountable for Constitutional violation of its role," he said.

"In extraordinary circumstances, the Courts have stepped in which though considered judicial activism was ultimately for the benefit of the citizens. The intervention of the Court during COVID-19 on various aspects is a prime example, the SC Judge noted.

On the issue of industrial laws, Justice Bopanna said that there are many examples where Courts have addressed the needs of vulnerable workers within the labour laws. "In a wave of Public Interest Litigations, the Courts had intervened and focused on the most vulnerable workers, bonded labour, child labour and rural labour whose rights were being violated," he added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

There is the draconian provision in the Constitution of India which allows the President to declare financial emergency in any State if s/he is satisfied that financial stability is threatened. This Brahmastra has never been invoked so far for fear that this will turn into a political weapon of mass destruction. But the provision is there in the Constitution for a reason. After all, the root cause of fiscal irresponsibility is the lure of electoral nirvana. It will stop only if the political leadership fears punishment. It is therefore important to ensure that the prospect of a financial emergency in case of gross and continuing fiscal irresponsibility is not just an abstract threat but a realistic one.

Disappointingly, the Centre itself has not been a beacon of virtue when it comes to fiscal responsibility and transparency. To its credit, it has embarked on course correction over the last few years. It should complete that task in order to command the moral authority to enforce good fiscal behaviour on the part of States.

VOICE OF THE READER

Presidential Election: Some thoughts

Sir,

This refers to Dr. Javeed Nayeem's article titled "Not so graceful Presidential Election!" in SOM dated June 26. He has rightly said that the President of India is not merely a titular head. He has to use his discretionary powers to safeguard our Democracy and Constitutional rights at the time of exigencies.

Our country has faced a situation, when declaration of Emergency was signed blindly without realising the consequences of such a declaration on our Democracy and Constitutional rights.

Thousands of innocent people were detained and their families suffered without their faults for nearly 18 months. We must salute the people of India, that they fought against Emergency and regained their freedom.

The electorates to the ensuing Presidential Election should use their vote judiciously and cast their votes in favour of he/she, who can safeguard our Democracy and Constitution.

India after independence has faced many such exigencies and has come out with flying colours.

Our Prime Minister has rightly said during his recent foreign tour, that "India is the Mother of Democracy."

JD(S) to support NDA Prez candidate Droupadi Murmu

Bengaluru, June 30- The JD(S) on Wednesday joined the list of non-BJP parties across the country which are supporting BJP-led NDA (National Democratic Alliance) nominee Droupadi Murmu, by declaring the party's support to her.

Announcing this to presspersons here yesterday, senior JD(S) leader and former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy said that though the BJP has enough members to get its candidate Droupadi elected as the next President of India, the BJP has been graceful in seeking the support of the JD(S). Also Prime Minister Modi had called JD(S) supremo H.D. Deve Gowda twice seeking his party's support, though the BJP has more than enough numbers and had also sought time to meet him personally at Bengaluru, which shows the PM's regard. But the PM need not do so and the JD(S) would support Droupadi Murmu as the party knows her struggles and stature, Kumaraswamy said adding that the Congress need not again brand the JD(S) as the BJP's B-team for supporting the candidature of NDA candidate in the Presidential polls to be held on July 18.

SC/ST hub calls upon youths to become entrepreneurs

Joint Director of the Department of Industries and Commerce Dinesh seen lighting the lamp to inaugurate the awareness workshop at the Institution of Engineers on JLB Road on Tuesday as National SC/ST Hub State President A. Kokila, Mysuru District SC/ST Entrepreneurs Association President R. Manjunath, BEML General Manager Krishnamurthy, SWR ADMM K.L. Pandey and others look on.

Mysuru, June 30 (MTY&DM)- Joint Director of the Department of Industries and Commerce Dinesh has called upon youths to be self-employed rather than wait endlessly for Government jobs that are hard to come by.

He was speaking after inaugurating 'Special sales and marketing development and NSSH Scheme awareness' workshop organised jointly by National SC/ST Hub and Mysuru District SC/ST Entrepreneurs Association at the Institution of Engineers on JLB Road here on Tuesday.

Pointing out that the Industries Department has announced 'Become Entrepreneurs-Provide Jobs' as its theme this year, Dinesh called upon the young community to become entrepreneurs rather than spend time awaiting jobs.

Stressing on the need for a thorough study of markets, the tender process, Government schemes and supply and demand chain, he observed that lack of information and inputs can hinder success to a large extent. In this backdrop, these type of workshops will help the enterprising youth to become entrepreneurs and establish start-ups as there are plenty of opportunities.

National SC/ST Hub State President A. Kokila said that there are more than 250 Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs) in the country. Pointing out that 4 percent of industrial and raw material supplies is reserved for SC/ST entrepreneurs, she said that, however, it is disappointing to note that the share of SC/ST entrepreneurs is only 0.8 percent.

Highlighting that major Public Sector Undertakings such as HAL, BEL, BEML etc., have a turnover of thousands of crores of rupees, Kokila observed that SC/ST entrepreneurs have a lot of scope for supplies to PSUs.

Mysuru District SC/ST Entrepreneurs Association President R. Manjunath, office-bearers D. Eshwar Chakkadi, Shivanna, Vijayashankar, BEML General Manager Krishnamurthy, SWR ADMM K.L. Pandey and others were present.

Abrar, who wanted to purchase soft drinks and soda manufacturing equipment, was searching for the supplier online and came across the website of the Chennai-based company and contacted it.

Abrar contacted one Murugan of the company, who introduced himself as the Vice-President of the company and met Abrar in 2020 during which Abrar gave his requirements to which Murugan gave a quotation of Rs. 30.75 lakh for the required equipment and as advance to supply the equipment, Murugan had got a total of Rs. 4 lakh transferred to a Bank account in stages from June 18, 2020 till Aug. 3.

Later, Abrar went to the company in Chennai, where he met one Sushilkumar, who introduced himself as the Director of the company and told Abrar that due to COVID-19 pandemic, the factory has been temporarily closed.

When Abrar told him that he had transferred a total of Rs. 4 lakh following instructions from Murugan, Sushilkumar told Abrar that Murugan was a just Marketing Executive and why did he (Abrar) transfer the money. Over the years, Kamakshi Hospital in Kuvempunagar, has grown enormously and turned into a 250-bed Multi-Speciality Hospital, with all medical facilities, while the new Hospital at J.P.Nagar is a 110-bed capacity Hospital.

In a recent survey conducted by a Kannada News Channel, Kamakshi Hospital was rated as the best among Multi-Speciality Hospitals in the city. Thanks to the relentless efforts of Mahesh Shenoy, the Managing Trustee and grandson of late Madhava Shenoy and Sulochana Shenoy couple and the Hospital's Administrator Dr. K.R. Kamath, the Hospital has reached greater heights, providing efficient medical care to the population.

Another interesting fact is that Dr. K.R. Kamath has an exceptional record of not taking leave even for a day during his entire service.

The Hospital, along with its Anniversary, also celebrated Founder's Day on June 29, marking the birth anniversary of Founder late Madhava Shenoy.

As part of the Anniversary, meritorious children of the Hospital's Ward Boys and Ayahs were presented with Pratibha Puraskar as is the practice every year. Also, four students of the Hospital staff who scored high marks in II PUC were given cash prize. Besides, Dr. Anuradha Prabhu, who is serving as a Senior Doctor at the Hospital for the past 25 years, was felicitated on the occasion.

Hospital Managing Trustee Mahesh Shenoy, Joint Managing Trustee Ashok Shenoy, Trustee Vishwanath Rao and his wife Jayanti Vishwanath Rao, Trustee Suresh Rao, Hospital Administrator Dr. K.R. Kamath, Medical Superintendent Dr. C. Umesh Kamath, Raghulal & Co. Proprietor N. Raghavan and others were present.

I read books when I am bored and want to relax: Young Genie Rishi Shiv Prasanna

Mysuru, June 30 (SSM)- As a human being, many of us are curious and have lots of questions regarding various aspects, but Rishi Shiv Prasanna amazes everyone with his inquisitive outstanding knowledge. The 8-year-old from Bengaluru has an insatiable thirst for knowledge and is a genius in the true sense.

Rishi answered all the questions eloquently and surprised the audience at an interaction programme organised jointly by Rotary Mysore North and Kannada and Culture Department, Mysuru, at Kalamandira in city yesterday. Over 1,000 people, including 800 students from different schools and colleges, gathered to listen to the young genie's words.

Rishi, son of Prasanna Kumar and Recheshwari couple, native of Nanjangud taluk, is presently residing in Bengaluru. He is one among 40 Youth icons of India, selected by the Ministry of Culture, Government of India, on the occasion of the 75th Independence Day in 2021. Rishi has an IQ (Intelligent Quotient) level of 180 beating Albert Einstein who had 160 IQ. He became the youngest Indian 'Mensan' — Member of 'Mensa International Club' (High IQ Society) — when he was just 4 years and 5 months. Rishi is also amongst the Youngest 'YouTubers' who runs a channel and with every episode, he dives into science-related topics and explains them comprehensively.

From Pizza to Android Operating System, from honey bees to potato chips, vaccines, global warming, ecosystem, numbers and so on, within no time Rishi answered every question asked during the interaction. When asked about his daily routine, Rishi said he is one among all, who does the same like any other kids, but says that he reads a lot of books whenever he is bored or whenever he wants to relax.

'Reading books is the only solution'

When the session Moderator Aftab asked how he gained intelligence, Rishi said, "You can only gain knowledge when you read a lot of books. When you study you get answers to all the questions and there will be no fear in answering any kind of questions. If you do not read a book every two hours, then you will be illiterate for the next four hours. I want to be a scientist in the future and wish to contribute to society and the country."

Rishi gave the information about how he has developed the three Apps which are listed in Google Play Store (IQ Test App - for kids, 'Countries of the world' and CHB which is COVID help for Bengalureans). He called upon people to use electric vehicles and said he will use one when he grows up.

Suttur Mutt Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji, who graced the occasion, said that it is important to present the knowledge gained after studying something. "Studying is of no use if one has no caliber to share it. Marks are just numbers. Knowledge counts."

University of Mysore (UoM) Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar invited the young genie to visit UoM as a guest lecturer and take classes of whichever subject he wishes to handle.

On the occasion, Rishi and his parents were felicitated in the presence of his grandmother.

Earlier, Rotary District 3181 District Governor Rtn. A.R. Ravindra Bhat inaugurated the programme. Rotary Mysore North President Rtn. L. Channabasavaraju, Director Rtn. B. Ramaradhya, Secretary Rtn. C. Prashanth, Members Rajashekar Kadamba, D.B. Rajashekar Murthy, Rtn. Sharada Shivalinga Swamy and others were present.

Abracadabra...

Hindutva lost and found in Maharashtra

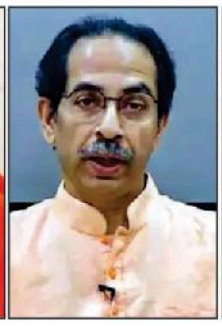
Bal Thackeray



Uddhav Thackeray

Bhagat Singh Koshyari

Eknath Shinde

Devendra Fadnavis

I have read that history is past politics and politics is present history. If so, I am tempted to write the present history of Maharashtra which will soon become past politics with the likelihood of one or two political parties in Maharashtra becoming history.

It is unfortunate and very dangerous for the survival of Democracy if this trend of pre and post election alliances among the political parties are allowed under the law to enable formation of Governments where no party gets the magic number required under the law to form the Government.

As a result, today we see political parties with incompatible ideology and manifesto, parties that are like water and oil which will not mix no matter what you do or like snake and mongoose that are natural enemies, coming together to manipulate the democratic process ONLY to capture POWER. They are like man-eater tigers. Having tasted human blood once, this predator becomes a man-eater. Likewise, a normal man or a normal political party after once tasting the political power acquires natural urge to compromise on the ideology and principles on which its members get elected.

Therefore, I was not surprised when a panellist in a TV channel bluntly opined that today in India we see not a normal Democracy which is 'a Government by the people, of the people and for the people' but a skewed Democracy that is 'by the political parties, of the political parties and for the political parties.' The result? What we had seen earlier in many States and specially at the Centre during V.P. Singh's period and thereafter. What we see today in Maharashtra is simply a carry-forward.

> If majority rule, after headcount, is not Democracy, then what is? As the TV panellist said, it could only be a skewed Democracy 'by the political parties, of the political parties and for the political parties.'

According to a report in The Hindu of today, Uddhav Thackeray said in an address (after resigning as Chief Minister and as MLC), "Those who were promoted by Sena Founder Balsaheb Thackeray are trying to pull down his son from the CM post. I asked them to come and sit in front of me to discuss. They said they have numbers and that's the Democracy for them, then, I am not interested in Democracy that believes in headcount."

Well Sir, if majority rule, after headcount, is not Democracy, then what is? As the TV panellist, mentioned above, said it could only be a skewed Democracy 'by the political parties, of the political parties and for the political parties.'

According to PTI, rebel Shiv Sena Minister Gulabrao Patil said Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray has left 'Varsha' (Chief Minister's official residence), he left 52 MLAs, he left everyone, but he is not ready to leave Sharad Pawar.

In retrospect, there seems to be a lot of truth in what Gulabrao Patil had said. Was it not Sharada Pawar who acted as a go-between to bring the Congress and Shiv Sena together to form the Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) coalition?

Well, at last... Devendra Fadnavis, prospective BJP Chief Minister, has the last laugh.

Now let us think of the country that is long used to foreign rulers — by Muslim invaders and British traders. The people of India seem to be still vulnerable to their old masters' voice that emanates from the lips of the new masters with the same DNA and culture of the voters.

I am reminded of a book, written by that Brown Sahib of an Indian scholar Nirad C. Chaudhuri, titled "The Continent of Circe." I have not read the book but read the review. It is an essay on Indians but pro-British. While every Englishman took pride in asserting "right or wrong, my country," this author did not think of his country India that way and he had his own reasons. And some of those reasons we can find in what has happened in today's Maharashtra politics.

By the way, Circe is an enchantress and a Goddess in Greek mythology. She had the ability to tap and manipulate mystical forces of the universe. In Maharashtra who played the role of Circe ? Your guess is my guess.

Last Tuesday, June 28, 2022 I wrote in this column about this political spectacle under the title 'Political Warriors of Maharashtra'. I concluded it with the words, 'Let us see how this drama unfolds and ends.'

Now we know how it unfolded at the Supreme Court and ended at Uddhav Thackeray's house 'Matoshree' when he resigned as Chief Minister. First the bravado, then the surrender.

At a time like this, when India should arise, awake and stand united, it still remains a house divided and a house divided cannot stand. Indians are warned.

Judicial activism ensures justice

Composition without force

In the process of judicial review, it is inevitable that Courts should take into account the current surrounding scenario in arriving at the decision which may at times invite the criticism of indulging in judicial activism. "But it would be fair to say that without such judicial review, the democratic system would be a mere farce and the Constitution would be merely a composition without force," Justice Bopanna noted.

"Since one universal decision cannot satisfy every individual who is concerned with its conclusion, to see the judicial review as a shield is one perspective but to see it as a weapon is another, which in my opinion does not depend on the philosophy of the judges alone but also the manner in which the citizen perceives it, which will always remain to be a subject of discussion but we cannot forget that the Judges are also bound by precedents and will have to tread the laid down path," he opined.

Social values and humanity

In his address, Justice Santhosh Hegde said that greed has dominated society and unless humanity is restored, there is no future for India. Justice Hegde was speaking on "Fall in social values and its consequences."

"It is our bounden duty to uphold social values and humanism. Values like contentment and humanity are declining day by day among humans and as a result, society is being ruined. Development will not happen where there is greed. Corruption has rooted deeply in the pillars of our Constitution like legislation and the executive," he opined.

Justice Hegde said all three pillars of Democracy — Legislature, Executive and Judiciary — had become corrupt. "All are from the same society. Corruption is everywhere. People have to be aware and fight against it," he said.

When society, in general, ignores humanism and being content, it tends to become greedy and corrupt which in turn leads to the failure of a society. Thus, to break the cycle of corruption one needs to awaken the youth towards the idea of a corruption-free society, he added.

Industrial Management Association President A.C. Narendra, Secretary Jatin Achaiah and others were present.

Minister spends morning with Zoo animals

Minister Umesh Katti will review the income, expenditure, salaries, new projects and initiatives to make Zoos more animal-friendly and also to enable easy public access. The Minister was accompanied by Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (APCCF) Vijay Kumar Gogi, ZAK Chairman L.R. Mahadevaswamy, DCF (Wildlife) V. Karikalan, Zoo Executive Director Ajit M. Kulkarni, ACF Rangaswamy and ZAK members Gokul Govardhan and Jyothi Rechanna.

After taking one broad round of the Zoo in a battery-operated vehicle, Umesh Katti visited the tiger house, leopard house and jaguar houses. Inspecting the new enclosures that are being set up for wallabies, baboons and ring-tailed lemurs that have arrived from foreign shores, the Minister took information about the new arrivals and also inspected the enclosures built for gorillas and chimpanzees from the donations from corporate companies and industrial houses.

He then paid a visit to the enclosures of Indian Gaur where the Zoo officials apprised the Minister that the proposal to shift over 21 Indian Gaurs to the Tyavarekoppa Tiger and Lion Safari in Shivamogga to launch the country's first Indian Gaur Safari has not yet materialised as the State Government is yet to permit the same.

Umesh Katti later visited the section where manure is being prepared and also inspected the facilities where food for the animals is stored and the veterinary hospital where the injured animals are treated.

Later coming out of the Zoo campus, the Minister was all praise for the Mysuru Zoo that has been well-maintained and where the denizens are in their pink of health. "The Zoo was established by the Maharajas who had the vision and it has been expanded and maintained. One gets the experience of visiting the real forest inside the Zoo," he said.

"Of all the Zoos in India, the Mysuru Zoo stands out as the model Zoo and I am really happy to see the facility in detail. Will initiate steps to make this a unique place that aims at conservation," the Minister added.

Parliamentary Consultative Committee
on Jal Shakti Abhiyan inspects works in district

50 water bodies to be identified in each district for improved water conservation: Union Minister

Mysuru, June 30 (RKB&DM)- A delegation of the Parliamentary Consultative Committee on Jal Shakti Abhiyan (JSA) under the Ministry of Jal Shakti of Government of India, today visited three Gram Panchayats of Mysuru district for carrying out an inspection of the executed/ongoing works being taken up under the Abhiyan. The delegation was led by Union Minister of State for Jal Shakti and Tribal Affairs Bishweswar Tudu and comprised 10 MPs, Secretaries and senior Officers of the Ministry.

The delegation visited a few villages coming under Nagawala Gram Panchayat in Mysuru taluk and Bilikere and Hussainpura Gram Panchayats in Hunsur taluk and reviewed the progress of works. The Minister sought inputs on the number of all water bodies and other vital statistics. Renovation of traditional water bodies (Kalyani Abhivruddhi) is being taken up at a cost of Rs.6 lakh and silt removal and development of Sakadevamma temple Katte (water body) at a cost of Rs.8 lakh, both at Nagawala village. The Minister directed the officials to take measures as underlined in the JSA scheme for water conservation and rejuvenation of water bodies.

Later speaking to press persons, Bishweswar Tudu said that the main objective of JSA is improved water conservation with focus on creation/maintenance of water conservation and rainwater harvesting structures, renovation of traditional and other water bodies/tanks, reuse and recharge of borewells, watershed development and intensive afforestation.

Expressing satisfaction at the progress of the works being carried out, Tudu said that the delegation is on a two-day visit to the district to review the progress of all works being carried out under JSA with support from MNREGA.

The Consultative Committee will study the benefits to the local population regarding the works being carried out under JSA, the Union Minister said and maintained that Prime Minister Modi is determined to improve rural livelihood and implement the best water conservation and harvesting ways and methods.

Pointing out that the Government led by PM Modi would identify 50 water bodies in every district of the country for water rejuvenation, marking the 75th anniversary of Indian Independence, Tudu asserted that all efforts would be made to store water that take a natural course to the seas.

When asked about the status of Mekedatu project, which is currently witnessing a legal battle between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu over sharing of Cauvery waters, Tudu said that both the State Governments should reach an amicable understanding after holding parleys in a conducive atmosphere, as that seems to be the best way for resolving the issue.

Referring to reports on depleting ground water levels in many parts of the country, especially in rain-deficient areas, Tudu said that all measures will be taken to ensure recharge of ground water level by rejuvenation of all water bodies and tanks, including minor ones. Also, better ways of rainwater harvesting is being implemented for ensuring holding and storing of rain water.

When asked whether he was satisfied with the works being carried out under JSA in Karnataka, the Union Minister said that Karnataka is one among the States that has a good record in the works being executed. The State Government has taken many initiatives to ensure that water crisis do not crop up in case of deficient rainfall, he added.

RDPR Department Commissioner Shilpa Nag, Mysuru Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham, ZP CEO B.R. Poornima, Nagawala GP President Narendra, PDO Dr. Shobharani and other officials were present.

DECODING MYTHOLOGY

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Claiming the Earth as Nation

In prehistoric times, people captured a hunting ground or agricultural land or pastures by claiming that is where the ancestor was buried. Burial was an important ritual invented by ancient people to claim rights over lands. Later, they invented stories to claim land.

The Maori say that their cultural hero, Maui, once went fishing on a canoe and pulled out a big fish. The big fish became the North Island of New Zealand, and the canoe became the South Island. Thus, through a cultural narrative, that is, myth, the Maori staked claim on New Zealand.

In the same way, in Nepal, it is said that, in the beginning of time, a great Lotus bloomed in the middle of a lake from which arose Adi Buddha. He was Swayambhu, self-created. The lake dried up and gave rise to the Kathmandu Valley. The lotus flower became a mountain, which houses the Swayambhunath Stupa. Thus, through mythological lore and Buddhist narrative, Buddhism stakes claim to the land of Nepal.

Similarly, cultural stories are used to stake claim to India. The most popular one was the concept of Bharat Mata, created in the early 20th century. Before that, India was created using various ideas. For example, in Vedic times, there was a concept of Aryadesha, the land occupied by the Aryas. This shifted from the Northern Gangetic plains and gradually expanded to include the Deccan region. In the various dharma shastra, it was described as the land where the black buck roams.

After Buddha was cremated, his bones and hair were buried in different parts of India to create the holy Buddha Kshetra, which became India. In Ashokan edicts, we hear the word Jambudvipa referring to the Indian subcontinent for the first time. In the Jain king Kharavela's edicts, the preferred word is Bharatvarsha. Thus was India claimed by the Buddhists and the Jains.

In the Hindu school of thought, it is said that Shiva danced with the corpse of Sati in his arms, literally, until the body of Sati broke into tiny pieces and fell upon different parts of India. This gave rise to the various Shakti Sthala or Shakti Peeth. This again maps itself to South Asia, specifically the Indian subcontinent. Some parts of Sati's body are found in Bangladesh and Pakistan. They, too, became part of Akhanda Bharat.

Another way in which these regions are culturally connected to India, is through the Ramayana and Mahabharata. There is repeated mention in the epics of horses travelling on the land to be claimed by Aryan kings. Rama, of solar dynasty, connects North (Kosala, Videha) to South India (Kishkinda, Lanka), while Krishna of lunar dynasty connects East India (Kuru, Magadha) to West India (Gandhara, Dwarka).

Thus, we see how cultural narratives have been created, to connect the land to a people and an imagination. We must never underestimate the power of these stories. Let us not forget that Israel is a landmass that is claimed by Jewish, Christians and Muslims.

Such stories give these faiths the moral authority to fight over it. Thus, we see mythology playing a very important role in land rights and so, politics. Never underestimate the power of stories.

2022's first Ashada Friday tomorrow

No private vehicles allowed on Chamundi Hill; Parking lot created at Lalitha Mahal Helipad

Free bus facility from Helipad to Hill temple; Restrictions on July 1, 8, 15, 20 and 22

Mysuru, June 30 (MK, KS& BCT)- This year's first Ashada Friday, an auspicious day in the Ashada month for Hindus begins tomorrow, July 1 and along with thousands of devotees who are poised to visit the Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Chamundi Hill, the District Administration is also geared up to provide facilities.

Along with the Chamundeshwari Temple, the Temples of Goddesses all over Mysuru are expected to see an extra rush on all Ashada Fridays as the devotees missed a chance to see their favourite deity in the 2020 and 2021 Ashada months due to the COVID pandemic.

This year, the Ashada Fridays fall on July 1, 8, 15 and 22 and in between, the Chamundeshwari Vardhanti (birthday of the Goddess) will be celebrated on July 20. The arrangements and restrictions will be in place on all these days.

Elaborate arrangements have been made at the Lalitha Mahal Helipad Grounds from where over 50 free KSRTC buses will start. Devotees have to park their vehicles on an 18-acre land and a stringent queue system will be followed while boarding the buses. Line barricades have been erected to facilitate this.

Giant pandals have been erected to protect the devotees from rain and the entire land has been levelled and the bushes have been cleared. Mobile toilets, emergency medical care, drinking water and streetlights facilities have been provided.

A dedicated fleet of 50 KSRTC buses has been provided and each bus can carry 50 devotees. This apart, the City Bus Stand will have regular trips to Chamundi Hill and this service will not be free. The free bus facility from the helipad will be available from 3 am to 10 pm on all Ashada Fridays and on Chamundeshwari Vardhanti from 7 am.

Two doses of vaccination is a must to enter the Temple and health workers have been asked to check the vaccination certificate besides the RT-PCR negative reports, not less than 72 hours. Over 20 to 30 teams including health workers will review the devotees at various counters. Physical vaccination certificates or online certificates can be shown at the counters.

Horlicks Mysore Pak awaits Ashada Friday devotees

Mysuru, June 30 (GA&BCT)- This year, a special type of Prasadam (Mysore Pak) made out of Horlicks awaits the devotees who come to Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Chamundi Hill on the first Friday of Ashada month (Ashada Shukravara) that falls on July 1 (tomorrow).

Over 35,000 devotees will get the sweet that will be distributed by Sri Chamundeshwari Seva Samithi and over 30 cooks are in the process of making the Prasadam. The Samithi has been distributing Prasadam every Ashada month on the first Ashada Friday for the last 17 years.

In 2020 and 2021, the Prasadam distribution was suspended due to the COVID pandemic where even the devotee entry to the Hill was banned.

The Samithi that usually distributes speciality ladoos to thousands of devotees has decided to make Mysore Pak Prasadam cubes with Horlicks this time and 35,000 devotees will be able to savour them, said Sri Chamundeshwari Seva Samithi members S.V. Nagesh and Arun Kumar Jain.

"This will mark the 18th year of Ashada Friday Prasadam distribution by the Samithi," they said. Expert sweet-meat chefs from Athithya Catering are making the Prasadam at a choultry in J.P. Nagar. The feat will come to an end today so that the Prasadam can be distributed from tomorrow morning, they added.

Over 600 kg sugar, 175 kg gram flour, 30 tin cooking oil, 16 tin Nandini ghee, 3 kg cardamom and 30 kg Horlicks are being used to prepare the special dish.

Nagesh said that the Samithi has been permitted to distribute Prasadam at the new parking lot. "Breakfast will be served at 6 am and the mass food distribution (Anna Santharpane) will begin at 10 am and will continue till 5 pm. Prasadam will also be distributed from 5.15 pm till 7 pm," he added.

WORD OF THE DAY

Adulation

Pronunciation: aj-uh-LAY-shun.
Meaning: Adulation means extreme or excessive admiration or flattery.
Origin: If adulation makes you think of a dog panting after its beloved person, you're on the right etymological track; the word ultimately comes from the Latin verb adūlārī, meaning "to fawn on" (a sense used specifically of the affectionate behavior of dogs) or "to praise insincerely." Adulation has been in use in English since the 15th century. The verb adulate, noun adulator, and adjective adulatory later followed dutifully behind.
Example: "The history that emerges here is of a band yo-yoing between attempts to be taken seriously as artists, then coming back for more boyband fame and adulation." – Cath Clarke

THE ODD WORD

Ablutomania

Mania for washing oneself.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A diamond is forever

Meaning: Advertising slogan for De Beers' diamonds.
Origin: De Beers have used this as a slogan since 1948, and continue to do so (as of 2016). Here's the announcement of the campaign, from the New York Times' Advertising News and Notes column, August 1948:
"De Beers Consolidated Mines Ltd., owner of diamond workings in South Africa, plans a fall campaign in leading national magazines which will stress the engagement-ring tradition. Four-color ads will reproduce paintings by well-known artists and carry the slogan 'a diamond is forever.' N.W. Ayer & Sons, Inc., Philadelphia, is the agency."
The slogan began appearing in the US press soon after that date, as illustrated here, from the Ohio newspaper The Chronicle Telegram, June 1950. The notion wasn't a new one. In Anita Loos' book Gentlemen Prefer Blondes, 1925, is the line: "So I really think that American gentlemen are the best after all, because kissing your hand may make you feel very very good but a diamond and safire bracelet lasts forever."

QUOTE BOX

A diamond is a chunk of coal that is made good under pressure.
